

You've had a lot of problems with your parents – have things improved at all?

I'm not speaking to my mum. But my dad is in my life and he's very proud of me.

Is Big Brother providing the platform you hoped it would?

I wasn't expecting anything from it. I wasn't even sure if I should do it in the first place. I had a lot of work lined up and I was thinking about opening my own promotions agency. But I'm still doing that anyway.

We're intrigued to know if you're still at war with Nikki Grahame...

Excuse me! Where is that madam?! That Hot Stars article. I'm having a Nikki fit, I mean a hissy fit! I tried to call her but she won't pick up. I just think it's a bit pathetic really. 'What does Aisleyne have in common with Amy's cool friends?' Implying I'm not! If I saw her out, I'd ask her what her problem is.

How's your new clothing range coming along?

It's called Unique by Aisleyne. I studied fashion and I was brought up in a fashion environment, so it's in my blood. We're starting off with a sort of glamorous clubbing range, what I call a WAG look – but not at WAG prices! You don't need a footballer to buy the stuff for you. I'll also be doing a swimwear range that'll be classy, glam, sexy and glitzy. At the moment I'm concentrating on my book. I had a hard childhood and I want it to be an inspirational read for youngsters who are going through tough times. OK!
